EURO AREA BUSINESS CYCLE NETWORK (EABCN)

11th EABCN Workshop - After the Crisis: A New Agenda for Business Cycle Research?

Amsterdam, 21-22 September 2009

Hosted by University of Amsterdam

Organisers: Wouter den Haan (University of Amsterdam and CEPR) and Andrew Scott (London Business School and CEPR)

Sponsors: NOW (The Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research) and Euro Area Business Cycle Network (www.eabcn.org)

Given the depth of the current recession and the increasing use of unorthodox stabilisation policy the research agenda associated with the Great Moderation and the consensus it produced is increasingly coming under question. This conference aims to consider whether such questioning is necessary and across a range of topics, examine the issues and methods that may begin to emerge amongst academics and policymakers.

Whilst we expect a number of submissions will focus on the crisis itself we are particularly interested in likely research themes going forward in business cycle study including but not limited to monetary and banking systems, labour markets, monetary and fiscal policy and market imperfections.

We already have participation from Paul Beaudry, Tom Cooley, Martin Ellison, Pat Kehoe, Andy Levin, Albert Marcet, Athanasios Orphanides, Roberto Perotti, Morten Ravn, Ricardo Reis and Volker Wieland and welcome further relevant submissions.

The Deadline for replies is 18:00 GMT on Sunday 17 May 2009. Please email your paper and the following application form to Anggreini Kasanan at akasanan@cepr.org. Authors of successful submissions will be notified by end-May 2009.

Limited funding is available for travel expenses for academic participants presenting or acting as discussant. Expenses will be paid according to the standard CEPR travel guidelines (http://www.cepr.org/meets/wkcn/misc/CEPR_Travel_Reimbursement_Policy_2008.pdf). Costs will not be covered for central bank participants.

Yours sincerely
Wouter den Haan and Andrew Scott
